

Link

Link

The Link is a fully cushioned assembly of only two components. One-piece forms the sofa's body, back, arms, and legs, and a simple loose cushion is the seat. While the wrap-around back is comforting, an arch-like window designed in the back makes it feel lighter visually. The use of two different colours for the seat and the body is intentional and is recommended by the designer. The same concept of arch continues in the design of the Link coffee table.
